COLETTE HART

Colette Hart is Senior Director of Outreach and Engagement Centers for the Monte Ahuja College of Business at Cleveland State University. In her capacity as Senior Director, she is responsible for establishing Centers of Excellence in the College of Business that provide responsive and strategic business educational programs and services for the Northeast Ohio business community. These include the Global Business Center, Sustainable Business Practices Center, Innovation and Entrepreneurship Center and the Professional Development Center. She also secured funding to establish a Small Business Development Center (SBDC) and the Export Assistance Network (EAN). Colette has been instrumental in securing over five million dollars in funding to develop and support interdisciplinary academic, research and outreach programs.

Colette brings a global frame of reference to her work through her extensive experience engaged in economic development, small business, trade, and education initiatives throughout Europe, China and Chile. Colette serves on the NASBITE International Board of Governors, the U.S. Commercial Service District Export Council (DEC), the Jumpstart Council on Higher Education, and the Enhancing Design, Growing Innovation and Entrepreneurship Steering Committee (EDGE). Hart obtained her MBA at Cleveland State University and her BA in International Relations and Political Science at the University of Wisconsin.
